This first lab is aiming to create a recomendation system and to evaluate it on a LastFM listening Dataset, using the matrix decomposition algorithm, which is pretty efficient and easy to implement.

Improvements to the model and experiments are given at the end of the notebook.